

POEMS

ESSAYS

Book 2

洪逸生

HUNG YAT-SANG

1. The stellar Lamentation
2. The Horn glass of Azure
3. The Flower of Tragedy
4. Lust
5. The Gehinnom
6. The forlorn beach
7. Epistle to a Lady
8. Aurora
9. Epopee of the seafarer - The Seafarer's Dream
10. The Miracle of Joint School Functions.
11. Affection
12. 故宮大潭
13. Ode to Deep-Sky Splendours - galaxies, clusters & nebulae
14. 離別恨
15. The wind blows through the long-blade grass
16. An elegy to a puppy, which died at 3-month old.
17. home
18. Ruth Amor
19. Anticipation
20. Apus Azzuro Ganto 1 (30 cantos).
21. On emanating smoke from an anti-mosquito coil.
22. Message to a star - my autobiography (1958-1977). P.1
23. In a turtle - dove

24. An extract from Apus Azguro
25. A dirge for a forsaken soul.
26. I like
27. The Human Dilemma
28. An account of my several dreams.
29. When I see her
30. An account of a dream - morning, 3rd May, 1978
31. An account of a dream - morning (1 a.m.), 6th May, 1978
32. The account of a dream - morning (6 a.m.) 8th May, 1978
33. The account of 2 dreams - morning (4 a.m.) 9th May, 1978
34. The account of 2 dreams - 10th May, 1978
35. The account of a dream - morning (4 a.m.) 11th May, 1978
36. The account of a dream - morning (13.20 a.m.) 13th May, 1978
37. The account of a dream - morning (12.30 a.m.) 20th May, 1978
38. To a Christian
39. The account of two dreams (23rd May 1978)
40. An essay (3rd May, 1978)
41. The account of 2 dreams. 26th May, 1978
42. The account of a dream 27th May, 1978
43. The account of a dream 29th May, 1978
44. The account of a dream 30th May, 1978
45. The account of a dream 4th June, 1978
46. The account of a dream 9th June, 1978

- 47 The account of 2 dreams (11th June, 1978)
- 48 The fragment of a dream (15th June, 1978)
- 49 For the feminine girl (1)
- 50 The account of a dream (28th June, 1978)
- 51 For the feminine girl (2)
- 52 A bad essay
- 53 The account of a dream 25th July, 1978
- 54 The account of a dream 9th August, 1978
- 55 ~~the~~
- 56 The year
- 57 MCC? The Theory of Relativity?
- 58 For the feminine girl (3)
- 59 A note on my 'now & then'
- 60 For 'The Sun & its Activity 77-78'
- 61 A note on Christian faith & Jesus
- 62 Far-away
- 63 What is 'love'?
- 64 A note on my future essays, or papers
- 65 For the feminine girl (4) a dream.
- 66 words' salad
- 67 Draft of a Play
- 68 Elements of the Play
- 69 Plot of the Play

The Stellar Laudation

The leaves rustle on the sycamore trees,
Swaying gracefully in the evening breeze.
The Sun sinks gloriously in effulgent hues,
Touching the ocean with her last kiss.
Under the exquisite earthshine I will feast,
A sublime feeling overwhelms my cup of life.
The sky is resplendent with stars in peace,
After the lonesome foggy nights cease.

Oh! Myriads of star-dusts in the Milky Way, Shine with heavenly grace.
How I rejoice with you!
With your charming smile and your superb style!
So pure and chaste!
A pleasure to my mind.
Living under the starry nights,
With a feeling sublime,
A bliss I find!
In the desert you will be my guide,
In chaos you will be my heart,
In peace you will be my life!

Oh! Stars, stars of love and hope,

Sparkle pellucidly in my soul,
Where I quest and endeavour,
Under the celestial fire,
Illuminating my murky road.
Within your wondrous whole,
I live and grow;
Striving for my ideals.
Yet my life is lackadaisical;
In my lonesome journey towards my goals,
Plaintive for communion and warmth,
To enhance my zest for life,
And to keep up my quest for Truth!

There lies the beauteous reflection of the Milky Way,
The image of which sparkles dreamily,
On the undulating water,
How I long to touch you!
Whenever I find myself in despair;
You furnish me with hope and peace,
In your starry eyes;
Fill my bounded mind.

22nd April, 1976.

This poem is dedicated to a girl, Sister Ho, whose birthday is on the 24th of April. (b. 24th April, 1958)

The poem was published as a piece of contribution to the School Magazine of St. Joseph's College (1976-77) on P. 145.

The Hour-glass of Azure

Subtle and reposeful as they drizzle;
Tranquil as tears of Aurora ripple.
Propagating and sprinkling in fragile elegance;
like Lotus' exudate of fragrance.
The sublime resplendent starry realm;
drifting under the tyranny of time.
Ah! Anguish and misery does Love cherish;
the flowers of Tragedies* in Time flourish.

Fleeting seconds of ecstasy does life quest;
scorched by the hour-glass of Fate.
Under the azure welkin of zest;
may the golden Sun never be bated.
Transient are our bliss and woe;
under the cosmic Ordinal to infinity.
To imbibe the wine of the world;
in the divine chalice of Humanity.

13th June, 1977

* The flower of Tragedy
Lo and behold! The flower of Tragedy, flowing in the eternal hour-glass of melody.
I have my Earth with roses and ramp,
Oh! lest twice in my heart thou should bloom.

12th June, 1977

Lust

Heaven's quaked by our lecherous poems;
Libido in Hades rejoices.

Human lust through love implored;
Under the lewd sagittae of Cupid's bow.

Lo! Who can resist this force of life?

The intimacy, the lasciviousness, the ultimate bliss it reaps;
Captured by the ephemeral hours of ecstasy,
Congealed in the eternity of Time.

Masculinity, femininity in nude;
Consummating the energy of orgasm.

Rills of human life indulge through;
The friction, the tempest, the virile milk and the serenity effulgent, Behold! Why to repress this instinct of totality?

The whole-heartedness, the devotion, the passions it harvests,
To relish the sincere apple of loftiness;
In the human paradise of carnality.

16th June, 1977

The Delirium

No cars, no planes;
no rock and roll music, no trams.

No hustle bustle of town;
only serenity exists.

Only tacit understanding conveyed;
only love can diffuse.

We are kneeling, face to face;
beside the hearth.

Hush reigns, I can feel her breath.
Each at the other's best.

Our hearts throb; our bodies nude.

Lambent glances, amorous stares;
as refreshing as desserts of summer rain.

We quiver. The sultry blaze of passions.

The rufous flame of fireplace.

The electricity between us

Heart-throb! She droops her Venusian head;

She blushes - like a rosy bud, like a just-ripe apple;
My virgin flower.

Her doll-face, her sweet voice, her ivory neck;
she is but my goddess!

Her apple-pie mouth, her lips of strawberries, her snow-white teeth.

Nature's handiwork is my hallowed treasure!

I draw closer; her enticing breath,
suffused with ethereal bouquet.

Her metabolism, her blood, her fluids,
her every cell, every feminine molecule.

Hers unique! Hers everything! Hers complete.

Traces of jovial tears in her starry orbs;
vehement appeal to her emotions.

Her succulent flesh, her individuality;
her blackberries' hair, her curly soft hair.

My pupils dilate. What a rapture to my eyes!

The shyress of my virgin belle,
her eyes wide with admiration;
her breath's fast with love.

Lips and hands over her undulating body,
Soft and gentle as we play.

side; I set off my jaunt over her,
in heavy slow pace.

I cleave every bit along my way.

Her crimson-jinke mammary gems, her name virginal orifice;
Breath-taking stanches, thrilling caress and every form of play.

Loving, rolling, rocking, scratching, nipping;
digging into the uniting flesh.

The sharing of human bliss, the exalted configurations of love.
The intimacy, the delicacy and delicious aching ever experienced; the turgid gum of love.

Virile penetration with feminine bend of legs.

Delirious Ecstasy with our bodies intertwined.

I am as high as Mount Everest;

Honeymoon night with phallic cannon of love,
with delicious pleasure, with our breaths in one.

The wildest joy communing, my rocket launches;
beyond human bondage, beyond the abyss of loneliness.

Our bodies in total contact, our personalities united.

She beseeches passionately, my rocket decelerates.

We embrace tremulously, our breaths are heavy.

We melt, we penetrate each other, we fuse - our souls, our bodies.

Violent tempests; delicious pressure, masculine function.

Union of egos - from firmament to inferno.

Gush of seminal milk inundates her.

Offering of hymen are burnt,
on the altar of Eros.

configurations of love.
ings ever legs.

turned.

of love,
is one.
launches;
byss of Loneliness.
ties united.
decelerates.
are heavy.
ce - our souls, our friction,

efers.
er.

Our first night will never end.
Consummate exaltation! My babe lamb!

4th November 1976.

The forlorn beach

I take a stroll by the forlorn beach;
enjoying the cool evening breeze.
A lonesome seagull catches my eyes;
shrieking desperately in his cry.

I sit on the undulating sand;
witnessing the exquisite sunset.
With folded arms and thinking deep, pining for the one I need.

12th April, 1976

each;
Epistle to a Lady Lady
anticipate always;
your beatific days;
and your fecund way.

April, 1976
Forget! Forget the sombre yesterday, and you will never be frustrated.
May candidness and auspices be with you always;
for you my heart and soul fascinated.
Your lips like strawberries in Paradise;
your neck like swans in River Rhine;
as lovely as the asteriated emeries;
as fragrant as the flowers and fruits of Myrtus communis;
as glamorous as the quasi-stellar radio source from afar;
as superb as the fabulous domain of Modern Art.

Strive! Strive for your ideals;
and your endeavours never be abused.
May your goals always be acquired;
for you my thoughts and mind invested.
I edify in your suigeneris style;
exalts in your lofty mind;
like star-dust in the Milky Way;

like sunflowers, in gaudy days;
like an oasis in desert;
like the most precious human treasure.

Feel! Feel all beauteous matters, and your zeal for quest of Truth never totters.
May you and beatitude are in unison;
for you I always have my orisons.
Effulges with your ethereal pride;
sparkles in your sublime eyes.
Like diamonds in the mist;
like Phoenix from the East;
like the sweetest rose bud in Spring;
like the grandiose virgin flower in rain.

Perceive! Perceive the Universe around you;
and your zest for life never yields.
May your life be brilliant and consummate;
to you I always consecrate.
Your brows so delicate and mannered;
your voice so soft and tender;
as pure as the snow on the Martian Pole;
as elegant as the morning dew on rose;

as penetrating as the Rosette Nebula in Monoceros;
as sacred as the galaxies in Coma Berenices

So, lady,
anticipate always,
your beatific days,
and your fount way.

2nd June, 1976

Aurora

Dawn comes,
time on the run.
What a rapture!
For those captured,
by the shroud of night,
to see the first light.

Moving her ruddy lips,
the shy twilight lady preps,
with her blithe eyes,
consenting the day will be fine.
Out of the horizon she gleams,
the constellation Orion she dims.

Attired in her silvery gray robes,
she greets the yawning Earth with a blush, conferring fervors of dawn to all,
from her benediction of concord.
Nurturing the land with her divine balm, culminates in her golden realm.

Dawn! Oh! Dawn!
Her beauty comes.

with the rufous rising Sun in morn,
birds singing their songs,
but always recall,
it is darkest before dawn.

12th May, 1976

blush,

balms

Epopée of the Seafarer - The Seafarer's Dream

Flow, flow, flow, away from the Hell of Gole;
(to the realm of rose.)
Though his zeal has been cold;
and his paddles are old,
he fights as long as he can hold.
(to the realm of rose)

Show, show, show,
show his whole;
though hope is low.
The seafarer is bold;
to have his heart told,
and his secrets unfolded

Row, row, row,
row the fairy boat,
to the land of gold!
And pursue the star of Gole,
with all his soul,
as far as man knows!
man knows

24th May, 1976

The miracle of Joint School Functions

'In the name of power, vanity and hypocrisy, I, the chairman of the Joint School Function, endeavour to seek for the injustice of the member schools with the sacrifice of the rights of them. Although there is a constant dissent of opinions and views, I always adopt or act according to my sole benefits which are surely the benefits and purpose of the Joint School Function. Really, I exalt in my God-like position, honoured by everyone. In fact, the Preparation Committee is but a miniature authoritarian nation. We should maintain our stability and prosperity by all means - even by the practices of hypocrisy and selfishness with the sacrifice of personal freedom and democracy. For the quest of hideousness, pain, falsity and Humanity, I declare the commencement of the Joint School Function. So, let the Devil help us!'

Dedicated to the Chairman of the 10th Joint School Science Exhibition - Mr. Ip Wing Kan.

Affection

In my little selfish world;
with a noble feeling that sublimed,
pure, sincere and always true;
through which ever melts my heart.
For Truth and happiness it pursues;
blazing fiery in my soul.
Of faith and hope and my beauteous stars;
Devoted to your ultimate good.

10th April 1976

遊大潭

藍天白雲山湖色， 鴉雀聲音遍自然。 風盡野草無事處， 俯首眺望鯉魚門。 幽徑秋林枯葉地， 閃爍生輝滿塘銀。 水流潺潺古典樂， 恬靜迷人金陽中。

書於丁巳年正月十八日

1977年3月7日

April 1976

Ode to Deep-sky splendours - galaxies, clusters & nebulae
Myriads of galaxies;
burr my secular eyes with ecstasy.
Fluoresce in their celestial clans;
with their countless astral lamps.

Alas! what a regret!
For those galaxies imbed,
in the 2.7K background microwave radiation, during their lonesome aviation;
receding from each other with speeds of amaze;
into the eternal void of space.
spiral, barred-spiral, elliptical, irregular - all in a gush;
abiding their ad infinitum pilgrim of dusk.

Adieu! To the fair island-universes;
under which I compose my verses;
in their dainty silky gown;
of their merry stately loon.
Globular clusters sparkle with their red giants;
circumnavigate the nuclei of galaxies in rhythm.
Galactic clusters deluge with Population I stars;
pouring out electromagnetic waves from afar.

& nebulae

Emission nebulae in spiral arms, gleams with firmamentals charms.
To all these my soul exalts,
and leave my heart with joy.

20th May, 1976

amaze;

in a gush;
dash.

giants;
rhythm.
I stars;
afar.

離別恨

今朝夢醒淚滿懷， 辛酸苦樂情難返。 人生幾得何時在？ 撥開青天見星明。 愛恨交熾在香江， 但願玉人求真意。 試問誰留傷心地？ 遊子後會在無期。

書於丁巳年正月十五日 1977年3月4日

十五日
The wind blows through the long-blade grass
The wind blows through the long-blade grass;
like splashing water from afar.
Sweet grass, yellow grass;
on the earth so far.
I walk through the fallen leaves;
with sounds of pop-corn in movie show.
My old yellow crimson leaves;
on them I lay my very soul.

22nd February, 1977

An elegy to a puppy; which died at 3-month old.
Blithe and vivacious did you frisk, endowing my world with bliss.
Why? Hastily had you departed, to the eerie, unknown black hole of Death.
Your brief life emerged and perched,
like a dewy bow in wintry morn.
Your barking, your frolic were but portraits of memories.
Tell me, Snoop. Who took your breath away?

Snoop, you would never be home again.
Who's gonna to wake me up by scratching my bed?
Who's gonna to lick my hand and bite my slippers?
Never! Yes, never will your hoarse barking be heard.
Never will your animated spirit be shared.
Never can I caress your minute body.
Never can your naive face be seen.
Snoop, answer me. Have I ever given you sparks of joy?

Snoop, to your balm of friendship commured me with,
of which I ~~cannot~~ reciprocate.
Snoop, to the sky I have vowed to;
wherever I shed tears, one will be for you. (I can remember) You were fond of competing tug-of-war with me (with a piece of cloth).

In the warm evenings, I will remember you,
and the happy times we shared together.
Snoopy, I do love you!

11th November, 1977

This poem is dedicated to a puppy which died on 6th November, 1977.

come

come, drink from my cup of zest, and our earnestness will never be ceased.

come, eat my bread of bliss,
and our sorrow will be least.

come, share my fountain of zeal, and our lives will never be missed.

come, live with my heart of ease,
and our misery will freeze.

23rd June, 1977

Ruth Amos

Much had I espied on the vault of sky;
with Aquarius and Polaris as my guide.

The sovereignty of Cosmos I yearned for;
ethereal bells of bliss would chime all.

Once had I perceived the world through indefatigable eyes;
for which Aphrodite and Astraea in my mind.

The ecstasy of life I blazed with;
while temporal brooks of anguish congealed then.

Now - in the weird obdurate phantasy I dwell;
all silent and dead - only Absolute Darkness reigns.

Not even a trace of solacing light can spring;
nor senses of direction, nor flowing of streams.

Neither there are resplendent starry nights;

no laughter, no delight. No familiar shapes, no living creatures.

My earnest quest, my fervour, my life - all rapture;
all fallen, to the tempest of desperation! All melt.....

For what? Nothingness but nothingness is mine;

nor even Hope of the Pandora's Box! No space, nor time.

Boisterous whirlwind blows; I sleuth my star of Pole in vain, but all in vain! I shiver, without any feint.

Fortitude, I have! I can tolerate! I can endure, until starlight and roses subdued.

I ^{can be} am egotistic and numb, a fiddle?
Ideals? Affection? Oh, no! Never! They dwindle!

Who says I have never cherished the world?
Once, twice, thrice: I faltered, I did not jade.
Slave of Polaris, I was led to serenity.
I poured myself, I proffered my best, my most precious;
I gave my whole being without requital.
Misery and woe were mere hallucinations
With that vehement tie of joy, with that guide-star;
my ocean of life was dappled with silyery gems.

Those were my jovial days; they all faded, withered with age
I flounder alone in my dissonant course - in violent undertone
I am spurned and discarded, as a worthless mass of cell
In the fathomless abyss I drift, without feeling, without grace Farewell! to my ecstasy of life - transient but beautiful like the setting Sun in haze.
Oh! Affection and ideals. What can you bring?
Happiness or the very chagrin to live?

20th September, 1976

Anticipation

Lady, may I be a turtle-dove;
and cherish thine life with unrequited love.

May I inundate thee with lofty zest;
regardless of my wretched tears.

May I imbue thine soul with sanguineous faith;
though diffidence and warring are in my face.

May I always have thee as treasure;
though without thine nurture

Lady, to give without receipt;
to ^{act} say without deceit;
to strive without conceit;

without thee can I achieve?

The august sinking Sun in haze;
the exquisite earthshine of Moon in fust phase;
the astral heaven that Homo sapiens praises;
without thee can I taste?

16th May, 1976

Apus Azguro

Canto 1

I peep from my arid desert of Ego;
a stately Temple heaves in, on Sirens' Isle.
Commungled with curiosity and awe,
I launch my pilgrimage - to the Taj Mahal to the Taj Mahal of the human civilizations, the cathedral of eternal quest.
Exotic architecture! Gothic edifices!
Colossal domes with bizane aureoles;
glittering under the kaleidoscopic Sun.
Beyond the glen of Fantasia, in whimsical hues, lies the Tritium-adorned altar of hierarchy;
and the palatial fusion plants.

All images fade. Ephemeral phenomena!

Fata morgana!

I pause,

I turn my head, oblivious of my thought.

A chilly gale blows in, over the bleak valley.

Enshrouded by the Fog of Hatred,

I cannot see my way.

Envenomed with cadaverous desperation,

I dash for no destination.

Thunderbolts of sorrow! Thor of Destiny!
Tornadoes of Hades are roaring;
sand dunes of Loki are shifting and rolling.
(30 cantos)

On emanating smoke from an anti-mosquito coil Whirl and whirl;
they surge like tornadossometimes in a curly solitary ribbon;
emanating from the glowing ingredients
Sometimes they generate wind surfaces;
expanding and adjusting to the slightest draught.
Bent and twisted, they drift like ghosts;
impregnate every chink of space;
travelling in manifold of waves.
They somersault along their ways;
with ethereal grace.
Scattered with nodules; whirling fanatically.

28th October 1971

Message to a star - my autobiography (1958-1977)

That's a long time, a plebeian story. I started to write this piece of autobiography in 1976, during the long Summer Holidays. Then, I quit off my writing for a year because of unclassified reasons. After my matriculation, I worked on this message again. I hope I can record my 'life history' during my childhood, adolescence and early youth so that I can present it to my grandsons forty years later (if I have the chance!).

I think I was happy when I was a child. I have neither brothers nor sisters. In fact, I might well be a spoilt child with insatiable desires and egocentric actions. My father is a Protestant (Methodist). My mother is a half-Protestant-half-Buddhist. For me I was a Protestant sceptic but is now an agnostic. We used to go to the Chinese Methodist Church, North Point. My mother was very sentimental. She cried when she sang the hymns. My father is a devout Christian. They match perfectly - my mother is too dominant and my father is too passive. He is often quiet, solitary and anti-social. My father has shrunk to a status of unimportance for many years. My mother is used to order him to do some housework. When my mother gives instructions, he will follow like a little child. Otherwise, he will be scolded as stupid.

and awkward. In fact, he is quite stupid and awkward. Communicating with him is almost impossible. He never takes any initiative and he seldom talks when others have initiative to communicate. Our family life fades and becomes dull and meagre. My parents are always phobic of everything. Quarrels between them are inevitable. My mother is irascible and vain while my father is passive and stubborn and refractory. How about me? I was priggish, ascetic and strict. Why? I was brought up by a Christian family and taught by a brutal teacher in F.I. Ha! There is something I can be proud of - I was the first pupil to receive the breath-taking and prodigious gift of our tiger-form-master in the academic year - several slaps and blows on my head and shoulder (I reversed some of the items of my address in the paper he gave us). Ah! I can still remember the 'H' affair (on how to write H) and the 'was' affair (on how to pronounce was) in which I received more than fifteen slaps and blows and punches before my classmates as well as numerous curses and insults. Then I was called the Luratic and was considered as the greatest laughing stock in the class. Really, I suppose I deserved 'the Oscar Academic Award for Laughing Stock' that year. Besides,

ed and awkward.
possible. He never takes when others leave life fades and becomes phobic of terrible. My mother is passive and was priggish, up by a brutal teacher in proud of - I breath-taking aster in the academic head and shoulder chess in the paper
ber the 'H' affair
' affair (on how to than fifteen slips tes as well as was called the rest laughing stock deserved 'the Oscar that year. Besides, several students in F.2 and a classmate of mine always tried to menace and tease me. My classmate, Sir Chung was fond of hitting and kicking me. In extra-curricular activities, I joined the First Hong Kong Scout Group (which I consider it is my privilege) and was a member of the Buffalo Patrol in which I was not trusted by my patrol leader. He even displayed his distrust openly in the patrol meeting by saying that my eyes were mischievous.

I was virtually afraid of everything. I could not trust my classmates, my teachers and sadly, myself. After confining in the lunatic asylum of F.1D for a year, I could fly over the cuckoo's nest and was promoted to F.2. By then, I was obedient, naive and harsh. In order to overcome the feeling of inferiority and incompatibility for life, I had to be superior - morally and intellectually. Yet, it took me seven years to realize that intellectual or moral superiority (pride)* kills sympathy and chokes love. Being influenced by the harsh and austere style of my F.1 teachers, I became shy and stult. I also liked to show my moral superiority over people and held that morality was the sole purpose of life. Besides, Christianity enhanced my stoical insights and these attitudes persisted for nearly four years.
* I refer to the feeling of superiority

I attended the Sunday School of the Chinese Methodist Church for ten years and held quite a few posts in the school. I joined a Christian Youth Group in that church in F.I. Sometimes, two 'old' students (in primary school) and I went out to play during the meetings. We even went to visit girls. So? So I had to be liar (we played 'hooky'). These actions, together with masturbations, brought me remorse and pains. I thought that I was guilty and worthless. Unconsciously, I was led to admire a girl who equaled academic results with me in the primary school. She entered St. Paul's Co-educational College and I regarded her as my goddess. I began to excel in academic result in St. Joseph's College. In fact, I had always been ^{one of} the top twenty in the whole form since 1971. My extra-curricular activities were by no means scarce. Indeed, I had been one of the most active students during my secondary and pre-University education. I was too brilliant, too brilliant for me to believe.

List of extra-curricular activities and ^(etc) onwards:

1971

Scout of the 1st H.K. Group; Church;
Table-tennis ^(etc) club; Old Students' Association ^(etc)

1972

Scout of the 1st H.K. Group; Table-tennis Church; - Sunday School helper.

1973

Champion (Joint School Project 'Astronomy') in the 6th J.S.S.E.

1. Scout of the 1st H.K. Group^(SSC)
2. Science Society^(SSC)
3. Astronomy Club^(SSC)
4. Old Students' Association
5. Chairman of the Sunday school class union
7. School representative in the Joint School Project
Astronomy in the 6th Joint School Science Exhibition

1974

Advanced Resuscitation Certificate

Merit in 7th JSSE
(Lunar Photography)

1. Internal coordinator of Astronomy Club^(SSC)
2. Life-Saving Society^(SSC)
3. Biology Society^(SSC)
4. School representative in the Joint School Astronomy
Project - Project Koshutsk^(SSC)
5. Committee member of Science Society^(SSC)
6. Editor of the Hong Kong
Astronomical Journal
7. Coordinator of Old Students' Association
8. Member of the RTV Quiz Team^(SSC)
9. Member of the Hong Kong Amateur Astronomical Society
10. Patrol leader of the Panther Patrol in the 1st H.K. Scout Group 11. Project Head of 'Lunar Photography' in the 7th J.S.S.E.

1975

Merit in the 1st H.K. Astronomical Photographic Exhibition

1. Astronomy Section Head of Science Society
2. Project Head of 'Basic elements of Astrophotography' in the Centenary Exhibition of SSC
3. Demonstrator in the 8th J.S.S.E
(Pollution in H.K. & its remedy)
4. Demonstrator in the 1st H.K. Astronomical Photographic Exhibition

5. member of HKAAAS
6. School Representative of Joint School Astronomy Club.

1976

Behlloo Scholarship Trust

1. Chairman of Science Society (SSC)
2. Director for Deep Sky Patrol of HKAAAS
3. School Representative of the 9th J.S.S.E. Preparation Committee.
4. Project head of Astrophotography of the 9th J.S.S.E.

1977

Student of the Year (runner-up) - South China Morning Post (1977)

1. Student Advisor of Astronomy Club (SSC)

2. Vice-chairman of the 1st Hong Kong Astronomy Convention.

1977-78 78-79

Behlloo's Scholarship

Merit in the Area '78
(Solar section)
Second Prize - Astrophotography (Planet section)
Third Prize - Competition

1. Director of Deep Sky Patrol for HKAAAS.

2. Academic Secretary of Physics Departmental Society of the BC [77-80]

3. Public Relations Secretary of the Science Academic Week of BC

4. Director of the Astronomy Group of Physics Departmental Society of BC

5. Public Relations Secretary of the Photographic Association HKBC.

Is a turtle-dove

Love dandles in her rimy abode, dispute the Poets' ardent ode.

And Fate offers her a thorny bed,
with a mystic vision of Life and Death.

Love appeals to the gossamer rose,
and sobs in a pensive tragic pose.
Her tears flow like a silvery brook,
with sparkling gems and a languid look.

Love approaches the world with humility and zest, vowing to imbue it with bliss.

But think of sharing, giving and living,
for life so precious and fleeting.

Love perceives Nature with zeal and beauty, congealing anguish and woe with sympathy.

Under her mortals live and pass away,
yet their joy or misery is thy way!

Love anticipates with sincerity and hope,
to a sovereignty nothing can cope.

Through Time never thwarts a soul,

nor forsaken by the Fairy Boat.

Love cherishes with faith and communion,

yearning for trust and union.
Ruskin: the 'Declaration' of the stintle-dove,
'Let us love for the sake of love.'

20th November, 1979

We are but a mob of philistines! Some of us are practitioners of Science, yet we cannot think. Some of us are disciples of Arts, yet we cannot appreciate. Each of us is a specialist, a living encyclopaedia of facts. Each of us is a phenomenal manipulator of methods, an eidetic memory machine. We are but poikilothermal creatures! How to solve differential equations? How to convert ketones to carbonyl acids? Our apprentices and craftsmen of Science know. Who was Hemingway? Who was Homer? Our students and experts of Arts know. But alas! We never know the world! We never know each other! Each of us is discontinuous with Nature and the world. Ask us what the implication of Science is. Ask us how to correlate historical facts. We can't help but remain agape. Where is the spirit of free inquiry? Where is the Taj Mahal of Truth? They are gone! Gone with the wind! Good grief! We learn but cannot feel! We exist but cannot live! We feed but cannot grow! We have been deceived! We have been dehumanized! Where is our ecstasy of life? Where is our zest for Truth? Where is our love? And I, imbecile of woe. Where can I ferret out my life? I can't find but a reprobate of self. I worth but ye nothing! Gods of violence, diablerie of vices! Oh!

Rus Omnipotent Fate! Ruthless Lord of Probability! How I
'Li prostrate before thee! With fallen ideals and baffled courage, with refrained tears and sombre fiances!

A dinge for a forsaken soul. (A dinge for hope)
To arch over the dewy bow of hope,
and be inebriated with the euphoria of a dope.
To deceive eternity through the ^{practise} ~~communion~~ ^{crosses}, or the Communist Manifesto in a frost.
Speak not of bliss and being,
but tears and laughter in the tragedy of living.
Ask not for love and giving,
but sorrow and despair in reward of seeing.

Upon the world a soul yields last, upon Fatania - lost in its irrevocable past!
A forlorn heart under the Ordeal of Fate,
strangles God with courage and hate.
A lonesome Ego at the mercy of desperation, gores Lucifer with misery and frustration.
Upon the tranquil Darkness the heart dwells, upon the Unknown the Ego melts.

29th December 1977

I like

ye Rus
'Li
I am devoured by the night,
the cold wintry evenings and the morbid yellow light.
I have been overwrought by unknown fears,
my faded glory and mawkish tears.

I like to roam on a forsaken beach,
in which nobody but mist can reach.
I like to feel the chilling rain,
by which mystical melancholy ~~is~~ refrained.
I like to gaze at the dull-orange sky,
forgetting whether I have been honest or shy.
I like to contemplate in the midst of dusk, wondering whether an iron heart can rust.
I like to ascend my old sorrow stairway,
leaving a pale shadow to the end of Day.
I like to get lost on a tranquil road,
on which my soul can be peaceful and old.
I like to travel to the edge of the Fore,
from which I can start once more.

I am devoured by the night,
the cold wintry evenings and the morbid yellow light.
I have been overwrought by unknown fears,

my faded glory and manly tears.

3rd January, 1978.

The Human Dilemma

A. The Philosophical Mesh

1. The Philosophical manifold

Myriads of philosophy have dazzled my eyes. Will they all be the truth or merely lies? Tacit assumptions have blighted my mind. Will they flow and ebb like the tide? To arch over the dewy bow of hope, and be inebriated with the euphoria of a dope. Nice? To many, dogmatic ideologies are the immutable truth of the Universe, the ultimate purpose of life. For millions, an elan vital with a standard of modus vivendi and a jus cunctum in the Universe may well justify the sanguinary massacres or the diabolical misery of the human race. For all, creeds and a divine (or secular) plan of 'salvation' are devised, so that man can hope for the optimism of the future by making the present conditions worse than ever.

The vicious circle of matter and mind has haunted in the philosophical inquiry of mankind for centuries. It remains a dilemma - an unresolved mystery and perhaps can never be resolved. Divergent schools of philosophy have flourished and perished under the ordeal of socio-economic and scientific backgrounds of the various ages. Often, their assumptions are incompatible with each other and their doctrines are so dissimilar that the proponents persecute their dissenters brutally. Idealism, materialism or 'X-ism' as they are, 'Absolute Truth' they always claim to possess. Indeed, the philosophical manifold represents part of the different aspects of reality, but never the whole. The acceptance of this fact will, at least, lead to much tolerance to different philosophical systems and the 'heresies'.

Here, I do not seek to endorse a closed philosophical system or any specific theory. (By a closed philosophical system, I mean a philosophy which is self-consistent and self-contained). Yet, I would like to draw some properties and limitations of our philosophical inquiry.

2. The Virtue of Agnosticism

Our inquiry starts from the real world in which two assumptions are pertinent. In the first fork, the real world is a very complex system in which causality is somewhat indistinguishable. It is likely to be an open and infinite system. In the second place, the precedence of mind over matter or matter over mind is an open question and cannot be answered externally. An immediate consequence of these assumptions is that an open theory in philosophical inquiry will probably be most tenable. Consequently, any attempt to formalize the question of mind via matter may result in the formulation of dogmas and orthodoxy. Any closed theory which is consistent within itself can be regarded as a glimpse of part of an aspect of reality. An open theory does exempt from 'self-consistency' in some respects for it is infinitely rich in its content. In fact, dialectics can well be applied to an open theory and yield fruitful insight.

Philosophically, agnosticism has more rational foundation. I am aware of the fact that I may be so shaped by the environment that I am an agnostic. There may well be psychological reasons for skepticism and agnosticism. As a result, I do not intend to dogmatize any assumptions or inquiries.

complex system unavoidable. It is system. For the over matter is and cannot consequence of theory is most tenable.

question of mind
of dogmas consistent within of part of does exempt for it is dialectics can and yield

rational foundations be so an agnostic for skepticism intend to

3. Dialectical Pluralism

Dialectical Pluralism is a mode or process of philosophical inquiry into the Reality. It is a method only. Just like the scientific method, it is subjected to human limitations. Under this mode of inquiry, reality is regarded as an open and infinite philosophical system and imposed by the complementary principle, i.e., there exists simultaneous but complementary poly-poles in the reality. The philosophical manifold merely represents part of the different aspects of the reality. Besides, the spectrum of the poly-poles has a gradual transition from one pole to the other. Under this view, unity is but multiplicity and multiplicity is but unity; the ultimate is the primordial and the primordial is the ultimate. Yet, this method is paradoxical (as well as complementary) in the fact that the concept of 'infinity' is undefined and even cannot be conceived. Consequently, it is probably that the quest for an ultimate principle in philosophy is an open question, i.e., it can never be solved.

Hence, there exists no definite answers to nearly all philosophical problems. This human dilemma is imposed by human limitations and perhaps can never be resolved.

to nearly all is imposed by be resolved,

An account of my several dreams.

Dream 1: This dream occurred in 1977 (before June)

I dreamt that I owned a panther as pet. It was a beautiful panther and I used to caress it and to feed it. Once, I fed it with some food but it started to bite and scratch my hand. Consequently, I had to shut the door but it did not let go my hand. I woke up then.

Dream 2: August, 1977

I dreamt of the the panther again. This time I shut all the windows, mended all the crevices so that it could not go into my house. Yet, it managed to slip into the house through my mother's room. It sat quietly with me on my mother's bed. We started to talk. I opened my eyes.

Dream 3: Mid-April, 1978

I dreamed that I was taking a taxi with an acquaintance of mine who might be Lun Kun Fai, a fifth year student of the Baptist College. The taxi arrived at Quarry Bay, just beside the Sam Yee Bookstore. I was shocked when I looked outside. The pavement was packed with stretchers, on which corpses were placed.

Some people were putting cosmetics on the faces of the corpses. Although I was frightened, I wanted to dismount the taxi. The taxi-driver was apparently terrified and did not want us to get down. He drove the taxi to the other side of the road, near the North Point Primary School and stopped. When he turned his head, I found that the taxi-driver resembled me! I woke up with sweat and palpitations.

Dream 4, 5, 6. - morning of 30th April, 1978.

I dreamed that I went to a beach with my mother. We sat down on a bench beside a long stretch of wires where I met an old friend whose name is Ho Chi Fun. She wore a fairly low blouse, showing her breasts ostentatiously and I found my hands caressing her breasts and cupping her breasts. I started to uncloth her and had intercourse with her, though I did not & do not have any sexual or erotic desire towards that girl. I felt that more than two had participated in the intercourse. I woke up with an erection (11.35 a.m.)

I was in a war within a familiar place, probably the Baptist College. I was an infantryman and my friend Lam Shing Tung ~~who~~ acted as a tank-driver. We arrived, at a ruined house. Outside it was a woman and her wounded baby. My friend in the tank used a strange mechanism hanging a piece of white cloth to the woman. The woman took it and wrapped it round her child. Then, my friend dismounted the tank. Nightfall. We decided to act as spies to explore a forest stationed by enemy troops. We went to the forest and found out that it turned to be the top floor of a building. The entrance was guarded by a machine gun (which resembled a movie-camera). We walked straight into the entrance and met two notable persons standing and preparing to have their photographs taken. They failed to notice us and when we descended the stairway, we found that we were in a great hall with stepping seats. Rows of seats were covered with people with garments like the clergymen's dresses of the Orthodox or Catholic Church, alternated with people in ordinary clothes. We sat down quietly. There were many people on the stage - several of which were bishops and clergymen. A bishop was performing Capistrano. He seemed to derive much power from a middle-aged woman standing behind him, who spoke French when he baptised people. The second people to be baptised was a woman vampire, whom the bishop performed strange rituals by touching her face and vice versa. The face of the bishop suddenly transformed to the horrible face of a vampire, showing his teeth aggressively towards us, with blood dripping from his mouth. We were terrified. Gradually, he walked towards us and glided down the stage:- He disappeared slowly on the stage and reappeared on the floor as a woman vampire. She walked towards us. We could feel her coldness and terror. She asked what our names were and asked my friend to go away. We replied her and my friend started to run. She asked me to ask my friend some questions and to go with him. I saw a cold and beautiful woman standing behind her, dressing in a long black garment with silver gems. I sensed that she had great power to control the vampires. I was then on my heels. I woke in terror.

In the third dream, I was sitting in the student lounge, watching a girl having some feminine qualities a girl somewhat similar to a very feminine girl.

belonging to the sociology or social work department. She was wooed by two Physics junior or senior students. Apparently, they were teaching her some academic subjects. I became jealous of them. Suddenly, I saw my former classmate, Raymond Lee wearing a violet-red or scarlet red trousers and a red or violet shirt and bringing a solar wedge to me. I inspected it and he went away with it so that he could place it in a beautiful case. Then I woke up with jealousy.

Dream 7 - before April, 1978 (probably in March)

I dreamt that I was travelling on a tram with Peter Lo, a friend of mine. I caught a glance of the feminine girl I frequently saw (and see as well). When I dismounted the tram, I found that she disappeared and I looked up the tram - a score of ugly girls sitting and standing. I crossed the road near the Olympic Restaurant in North Point and met Morgan Wong, carrying two plates of rice. I woke up then.

30th April, 1978

When I see her

The first time when I saw her was in the Student Union. She is a tall, feminine belle, wearing a pair of jeans and a white T-shirt with S.P.C.C. on it. I was surprised for I was somewhat sensitive to S.P.C.C. for the school was the school of my former 'girl-friend'. She has a dark complexion that time. The second time I met her was on a T-A bus. Apparently she was going home. She talked with a short boy on the bus who was carrying a book of accounting. So, I guessed she was an accounting or business major. I discovered that she took the ferry to North Point and guessed that she lived in North Point. Then I did not meet her until last December. One day, when I was sitting in the lounge, I found that she was sleeping on a sofa. Very beautiful; very feminine. I guessed that I began to like her. She failed to notice me at all!

Um! I employ my defense mechanism to protect myself getting involved in any one-way emotional flow. One day when I left school, I met her again in the bus stop. She stared at me for some time. I stared her back. A No. 103 bus came and we boarded the bus. When I sat in the student lounge one day and talked with my friends, she suddenly emerged from the library, walk in the student ing a pair of blue

C. on it. I was to S.P.C.C. for this -friend. ~~She~~ had ie I met her going home. She she was carrying e was an account;
e took the
at she lived in til last December.
lounge, I found my beautiful, very
her. She failed to protect myself at flow. One day in the bus stop.

stared her back.
the bus. When I talked with the library, walking gracefully across me. That drove my soul crazy. When I stood near the Physics Department one day, she appeared and looked at me for two seconds. Very strange eyes!

I met her in the canteen on Saturday and she stared at me angrily for I had stared her angrily once!
I went into the library, seeing her finding and reading books on the floor. She is quite stylish! She sat on the floor reading books without any notice of my existence.

She is a tall, beautiful girl and likes to match colours. She likes to wear brown clothes and trousers.
Her complexion is snowy white in winter,

30th April, 1978

An account of a dream: - morning, 3rd May, 1978

I dreamt that I was going to watch a movie (12.30 p.m.) with my mother. The clock struck twelve and we were hardly prepared to go out. In fact, we went out at twelve twenty with Mrs. Chan who was a former neighbor of mine. We could not catch any bus and walked along the road. Eventually, I could not find my mother & Mrs. Chan but met two or three friends - Chan Chi Lok, and Chan Siu Keng. It was 12.30 p.m. and Miss Chan was told to call Young Chi Hung and Lau Man Shan. I boarded a car and sat on the back. Mr. Stephen Yung, a former teacher of mine, drove the car backwards without seeing and I found that I sat beside him. We arrived at a waterfall and I woke up.

An account of a dream: - morning (1 a.m.), 6th May, 1978

The feminine girl I like went into the library. She wore her characteristic clothes but did not resemble the look I love. Immediately, I went into the library on the pretext that I wanted to find Miss Chan Sau Kien. Actually, I wanted to meet her. I saw her sitting in the library, not quite like her. I walked with Miss Chan who was exceptionally well-dressed and talking about Chan Chan.

Lok, I saw some girls belonging to the sociology department smoking. The feminine girl wore a shirt, a pair of jeans and a transparent raincoat. I woke up.

The account of a dream - morning (6 a.m) 8th May, 1978

I dreamt that I saw a picture (photograph) in which there was a blue lamp with various black shadows around the place. The place was very dark. The photograph concerned was the winning photograph for a competition in creative photography. The photographer told me that this picture was taken in a factory building. I went there and found that the scene was gruesome, yet I did not fear. Suddenly, a force tried to strangle me. The dream was accompanied by physiological reaction as well. I felt that my neck was strangled.

The rudiments of two dreams - morning, 9th May, 1978

I dreamt that I was playing a war game with two or three people in my building. Each floor was taken as an air-plane base. We were attacking each rather as plane drivers. I went through the enemy's base and attacked them by taking a surprised route. I woke up (3.00 a.m.).

In the second dream, I was walking towards a bus-stop in a deserted place at night. I sensed that something terrible might happen.

The account of two dreams - 10th May, 1978

The second dream:- I dreamt that I was having a casual walk with Miss Thal. We walked for miles and went back to her house. It seemed to me that I met my parents and some 'former' friends of my family, Aunt Chu and her son in her house. We talked for a while. Then we went down and the son of Aunt Chu and his girl friend drove my family to my former living place. It was a long long way and we saw some acquainted people hiking along the road, to a reservoir, which my mother had hiked to that place once. Although Aunt Chu and one of her little son were not present in the car, they reappeared after we arrived at the destination.

We had to walk up a high road before we could see the place. I stepped into the playground and saw many children playing. They were playing war-games, holding toy machine-guns. Besides, I saw many children assembled in the court. Aunt Chu said that they should remind me of my childhood. The other son of Aunt Chu and his girl friend had already disappeared. When our family stepped into a building, Aunt Chu and her little son vanished as well. We went into a lift in which my father met an acquaintance. The man asked my father where and whom he worked for. My father lied to him that he worked for the Hong Kong Boys' and Girls' Association. The man then said that he would like to join the working. My father remarked that the boss seldom came back. [N.B. the place did not look like the place I have lived before (as well as the children); the lifts resembled those in China Bank] I felt that my father was lying. Virtually, he was afraid of answering or telling the truth. At least I could sense it. We went up to a Chinese restaurant. It was not opened yet. We went to some seats outside the restaurant. My mother chose the least good-looking seat and I sat on the best seat beside my mother. My father hesitated before a seat beside me. I woke up.

The first dream: I was having an English lesson. A new English teacher came and told us to do some silly things. We were quite upset. After the teacher left, I said that we should play hockey.

The account of a dream - 11th May, 1978. (4.00 a.m.)

I dreamt that I was watching an acrobatess ascend a long and high ladder with occasional somersaults. She reached the top once. Suddenly, I found myself sitting on the top of the ladder which was 'twenty-six floors' high. She ascended the ladder again but fell several steps each time when she nearly reached me. I had a thought that she survived when she dropped from the ladder to the ground but would be seriously hurt.

The account of a dream - 13th May, 1978 (1.30 a.m.)

I dreamed that I was having an interview. The interviewer spoke with bad English and asked me some questions (such as "What is electricity?"). He said that I should wait for a few minutes and he wanted to fetch an examiner for me to have an oral examination. My parents were watching and giving advice to me. I rebuked them and dismissed them with revulsion. They finally left and the examination lasted for 905. After the examination, I intended to go back to my dwelling place which was on a large mountain. I took a bus and was disturbed by the idea that I did not want to go back. I dismounted the bus and took a ferry in which I met my parents. I called to them but they rejected me. I had a bad feeling. Yet, I did not call them any more. After I left the pier, I saw two strong foreign killers in a market-place. I felt like an actor, protecting some important persons from them in some part of a film. I travelled in an underground pedestrian system back to the Baptist College. Outside the exit of the system, I saw an underground hospital with nurses and I met two students of the Baptist college disguising as patients.

The rudiments of 2 dreams (morning, 15th May, 1978)

2nd Dream:- I dreamed that I was ascending a very long and high stairway in which I found another stairway to the top floor of a building. I met Khing Kam Bor near the bottom of the stairway. He told me that the stairway did not lead to the top floor. I remarked that I would climb up. I ascended the stairway and found that the place it led to was the classroom when I was in Form 1.

1st Dream:- I dreamed that I went into Hung's Temple in which it housed the names of deaths from fire. Above these names was a statue. I went into the Temple by the 'back' stairway and left some of my belongings there. I nearly forgot to bring them when I left. Then a vague scene occurred before me. I met the feminine girl I like. She resembled a ghost, wearing white clothes and her face was very pale. Then I went into a big room with many beds. I came to one of the beds and left my belongings there. Yet, someone told me that the bed was not for me and I had to move to another bed. I also dreamt that my eyes became white in colour. I was afraid that I a disease but found out that tears (or water) were responsible for the 'substances'.

The account of a dream (20th May, 1978 12:30am.)

I dreamed that I was on the upper deck of a bus which was like a tunnel bus. I grew suspicious of a youth who tried to coax me. His face was like the face of the chairman of the CSU. I did not accept him. Besides, he tried to coax other people. Later, something terrible happened - a man was annihilated. I descended the stairs and told the bus driver and an acquaintance of mine that a murder had taken place. Instantly, the murderers (and several people as well) dismounted the bus. I followed them so as to prevent them. Their faces were deadly, extremely cold and lifeless. They had no expression on their faces. My friend and I had a feeling that they could annihilate every person merely through their coldness and lifelessness. They met some people and sat with them in a place like the panorama. Their faces changed back to those ^{of normal people} without any expression. We slipped through the place but were discovered by them. We went up a building to hide ourselves. We entered a spacious hall.

Several people were sleeping outside and 2 or 3 persons stayed inside. We hid in a place near the entrance and intended to change the hiding place. We stepped out and met a girl who wanted us to go to the other side of the room to help her. We came across the entrance and were seen by the lifeless people. This time, the leader was a girl. They chased ~~not~~ ^{my} friend was caught. I descended the stairs as fast as possible. I woke up with sweat.

To a Christian

Be a giver with no name,
not a puppet of the Lord.
Be thyself with no feint,
not a deceiver of the world.

Truth is not truth when indubitable;
Life is not life when dependant.
Love is not love for dominance;
Hope is not hope for innocence.
Now, face the world!

21st May, 1978

The account of two dreams (23rd, May, 1978)

I dreamed that I was a western cowboy. My girl friend was the feminine girl I like. I prevented a bank from being robbed by catching the notorious robbers. Then I went into a place like the Ocean Terminal and found that I started to destroy the place and search for something flirtatiously. In fact, I was searching for an entrance to an embedded place.

In another dream, I was watching a cartoon character fighting with another person. I found that they were fighting only flirtatiously.

I am writing this piece of essay amidst the hustle bustle of the school days. Examination is near and everyone is studying, typing research papers and I have no will to study my poor major - Physics. Perhaps I am a bit carried away by my emotions, yet I do not care. Well, I come to the feeling that I am doing senseless work. I take too much from other fields and I cannot keep up, without sharing them.

I just do not know how the Bayatist students survive in this so-called post-secondary school which is like an old-fashioned primary school. Indeed, the piece of writing serves nonsense at most. I just want to keep track of my thinking. I am getting too far. Well, you know that there are times when you feel compelled by life - I feel that I have shaken from the past - there is no personal history, no memory, no strong feelings. Everything seems to be so far away. I, in a certain sense, act as if I had no future and past, only with conditional reflexes. I stop planning and I stop recalling. How can I stop my reverie? The passage I am writing is written spontaneously, without much thinking. People to me are strangers and I am a stranger to myself. I hope I can meet new people every day, so capricious, so new. Yet, I ^(feel) am very old, much older than I can possibly imagine. I am losing myself now. No future, no past and only that damned inferno. I am well aware of my condition that I am like a small raft floating on a vast and bottomless ocean, a rover in rags and shabbiness who never comes back to the place he has been. My past is an illusion.

My mind always keeps telling me something. Words and symbols flow spontaneously. I think that I should be in love and I have got a feeling that this can save me from this miserable, if not pleasurable condition.

3rd May, 1978

An account of 2 dreams. [26th May, 1978]

2nd dream:- I dreamed that I was a smuggler who tried to carry out illegal activities near the seashore. I was driving a car with my accomplice and found that a group of people were worshipping a person who died recently. The deceased appeared to them in a distance with his/her back facing them. It was raining and the deceased was probably a woman. However, she did not show her face. I arrived at the seashore and found that two smuggler's ships anchored outside. 6.00 a.m.

1st dream:- I dreamt that I was crossing a high wall to an entrance through two or three ropes which were like rubber bands and a long wooden plank. Above them was a large iron framework. A chemistry major student named Leung Yui Chi crossed the wall. I followed him but was frightened when I was in the middle-way. I stopped and he told me that I grasped the framework wrongly.

I could not even grasp the framework in a right way under his instruction. He walked on the framework gracefully and helped me. Another Physics major (Lun King Fai) followed me. He smiled. Besides I saw another Physics major (Lok Yee Kwok) on the plank. Suddenly, we could not go to the entrance and were forced to make a way out.
Below us was a swimming pool with varying depth. The shallowest was below us so we did not jump into the water. Finally, I found a rail so that we could slide to the pool through it. The pool was changed to a stepped terrace and I continued. Nightfall, I sat down beside a step, watching cars passing by a sloping road. I was lonesome and I met some girls belonging to Sociology Department, two or three couples

three ropes
a long wooden framework. A Chi crossed frightened when ed and he work wrongly.
work in a walked on the Another Physics smiled. Besides Kwok) on the
to the e a way out.
with varying so we did found a rail
he govt through stepped terrace down beside a sloping some girls
or three couples

They asked me some questions. Finally, we started to go back.

The account of a dream 27th May, 1978.

I was talking with a lecturer of the Religion & Philosophy Department (he may be a lecturer of the Sociology Department). He was a foreigner but spoke Chinese. (I know that he was acquainted with the female girl I like). Then I took an examination in biology in a hall. One question ran, 'Give the characteristic of mammal.' My answer was concerned with mice while others had different answers. After the examination, we helped to move the chairs back to classrooms and stores. Some fire-engines arrived and some firemen helped us to clear the place. Afterwards, I walked out the hall and found that I was in North Point. My friend, Peter Lo, was having a date with his friend.

The account of a dream 29th May, 1978

I dreamed that I was in a theatre and bought two tickets for a X-rated movie. I waited for Mr. Ho Jing Peal and met four friends from the Polytechnic and Miss Chan Lin Kuen. They asked me whether I had failed in D.E. I laughed off and said that it did not concern me whether I failed or not. Miss Chan laughed at their going to seeing a dirty movie. She did not know I had bought 2 tickets also. Finally, I met Mr. Ho and went upstairs. We sat down and saw that there was a large music band. A drummer was beating the drum with his hands. Besides, several children were drinking ^{strange} cocktail.

The account of a dream 30th May, 1978 (12:05am.)

I had to go back to Hong Kong after I met Lee Yu Wing and some acquaintances. I did not know which bus would go to the Jordan Pier and asked where the bus-stop was. Nightfall. They pointed to a place which was very far away in the dark only with a flicking light. I walked quickly to the place for I had to go back to Hong Kong within 30 minutes. I could not find the bus-stop.

They arrived and told me that the bus had stopped. I started to run but was chased by dogs which bit me lightly. The saliva was left on a wound of me. A middle-aged man shouted at them and managed to keep them tractable. Then, I walked into a well-lit stadium full of people on the ground. I began to run to the other side which was the bus-stop. Again, a white tall dog followed me. Suddenly, I felt that I was advertising a new brand cigarettes. I jumped to a piece of tall, narrow plank and the dog caught me and got a cigarettes from me and began to smoke.

The account of a dream 30th May, 1978 (11.15pm.)

I was on a bus (NO. 103) which was crowded with people. The bus went through a place like Wanchai but did not stop. Somebody told the driver and the driver remarked that he forgot to stop. Finally, I had to get down in a hilly and deserted area. I walked back with Ng Hung Cheung and met several former KTS students. I laid down on a steep slope for a rest and was on the verge of slipping down but was not afraid for the place was not high. Yet, another KTS student who sat beside me was frightened.

The account of a dream (4th June, 1978 4.00 a.m.)

I dreamed that I was playing a war game, putting a cannon on the surface of the washing machine. I found that the 'cannon ball' (a nail) could not reach the sofa where I stationed the enemy troops. I substituted the nail for a chip and found that it could barely reach the sofa. I felt like a prisoner-of-war and had to go on a transport vehicle (a train, probably) with several people. Among them was a female ghost who impersonated one of them. She killed several people each time. They died violently. The atmosphere was grimy and the process was repeated for several times. I wanted to find her out and killed her but it seemed that no one would trust me. The next episode started when my girl friend and I wanted to catch the ghost in the hotel. The ghost had great power and killed many people, jumping from stairway to stairway. We found her and fought with her. Besides, we got several ghosts to help us, one of them resembled a girl in the Social Work Department. The ghost escaped and we left the hotel through the door, meeting two policemen. The other ghosts came out and materialized into persons immediately. They had to twist their bodies through the door for the policemen were passing. Nightfall. We went to her cemetery and found that it was empty. We went up a hill and found that a river was running. Two of us dismounted and went down the hill. Four of us went up the hill and found a coffin shop. My girl friend was very brave, she went into an inner room and found that a coffin had been borrowed by the ghost. We set out to burn the place and I signalled to my comrades that I had to burn the place by starting and holding a light. Below the hill, the scene was clear, I could see some of them running towards the hill. I woke up.

The account of a dream (9th June, 1978) 1.30 a.m.

Miss Hval and I were walking past Victoria Swimming Pool. She asked me whether there was a medium swimming pool for she had not seen it before. She had seen the large one only. Gradually, we saw the medium pool and I said that there was an entrance from the large to the medium pool and there was a little one for infants. Beside the pool, I saw a fat middle-aged life-guard. I remarked that the Morrison Hill Swimming Pool was similar. I went back to the house (which was very large and air-conditioned) and found that my mother had just woken up from her sleep. She was watching television - a horror ghost movie. I asked her when this kind of movie would be televised. She remarked that once a week at no fixed time.

The account of 2 dreams (fragments) 10th June, 1973 2300.

I went back to the Baptist College in order to meet the feminine girl I like. Mr. Sun, the chairman of the Physics Society, and I came to a hall (like room 213 in the BC) where we found numerous students practising singing, musical instruments etc. One was taking a glass of lemon tea (with extraordinary many pieces of lemon). I remarked that it was worth 60¢. Suddenly, I met another girl who bore a trace of resemblance to the feminine girl and I nearly mistake her as the girl I like. She gazed at me with a proud, rejecting look. I woke up.

In another dream, I was in a place where there was a hole (with rails & handles) leading upwards to another place resembling a restaurant. I went up and met Jimmy Carter, talking to me, asking me how to leave the place. I told him to descend through the hole carefully and he left (there was a small stairway beside the hole but could not reach the ground). In the 'restaurant', I met Mr. Leung Yiu chi, playing a kind of new-styled mah-jong.

The fragment of a dream 15th June, 1978

I was walking with Lee Shim Tsiung in a strange place. We talked about how to start a small business of selling snacks on the beach. He asked me whether I had a cooker. I remarked that I had. He said that many local people bought from his stall, but not the swimmers. Suddenly, we saw a police car with several policemen. We reached a flat where many cubs surrounded it, communicating each other through walkie-talkie. A young man was sitting at a distance on a motorcycle. We thought that he was probably the spy of the police. We went into a place which was like a construction basement and decided that we should have lunch there. It started raining and we saw that the police jeep was covered with glass and the cabs inside did not get wet.

For the feminine girl (1)

Uh! I have not seen you for several weeks. I do not know what ^{knowing} my feelings are. I do not know you, neither do you. I guess that your mind does not have any image of me, any ~~at~~ all. You are indifferent, so cool. Yet, I pretend to be cool and apathetic. Uh! For weeks, I have crazy thoughts of you - you will never appear before me again; you will reject me; I am not worth as your lover, even as ^{your} acquaintance. Uh, I invent numerous pretexts to account for these - you are travelling, you are having a summer job. I am just too infatuated. I guess I am infatuated with you. Damn it! I can create your image in the lounge, in the canteen, in everywhere. For you, I can become a poet, a playwright, a scientist and a philosopher combined! Your eyes are proud and sublime; crystal-clear, leaving me a trace of curiosity, a feeling of perplexity. You are just too outstanding.

I do not like to show my feelings, even on paper. In fact, I try to avoid writing my feelings for you. I am aware of my different levels of feelings.

15th June 1978

The account of a dream 28th June, 1978

I was performing a test on how a car or vehicle knocking down a pseudo-man. Statues were used and were run over by some vehicles. I saw the cleavage of the heads of the statues. I was performing this test with my friend (Raymond Ise or Peter Lo or Patrick Au Young). Next, we wanted to test the suicidal result of jumping from a flat. We went into a skyscraper (more than 50 floors high). I did not have the key for the lift & intended to borrow one from Joseph Tai Ming but the lift arrived at that time and we slipped into it. It was a large lift and like a department store. We travelled for a long time. We knew that we had to go to the top floor.

which was a library. The scene changed. We saw T.V. screen in front of us and a restaurant in which the waiter cut pieces of meat appeared on the screen. At the same time, we saw several lifts inside a lift. We travelled half the distance and had to go into another lift. Suddenly, the door of a lift opened and the lift was full.
The lift door did not shut and we saw the one woman and one man were repairing the lift.
I was surprised. We went to other lifts. While we were waiting, I bought a ring from a girl who was selling rings and necklaces and resembled the feminine girl I like. (The 2 girls somewhat resembled her). The girl repairing the lift immediately went to us and I started to push the button but failed to call the lift. She joined me and she finally succeeded. The girl selling necklace went into a lift and I followed her. My friend and the other girl went into another lift.
The 2 lifts were full of people. My friend told me that we had to separate for girls' sake.
N.B The ring ^{agreed} sold to me belonged to the feminine girl I like.

For the feminine girl (2)

I am writing this essay spontaneously, without any rough draft. I myself am in strong conflicts and anxiety. I do not want to reinforce my feeling for you without knowing you. Moreover, I feel that my chance is nil to have you. I know that my infatuation for you is unhealthy and I want to cut it, to become cool and rational. I probably have too much imagination. I just feel that I am inferior. My self wants you to love me and to show me that I am worthy of you and of love. My self wants you to discover and to dig me out, to bring my potentialities into actuality. My self wants you to be a happy, independent yet loving human being. My self wants not to mold you or to impose me on you. My self wants to share burdens and happiness with you as well as to give my self completely to you. But all these are too infantile, too irrational, too subjective. You know, I have wasted too much potential, too much time. I am angry with myself for my self is too weak. My self still needs love.

28th June, 1978

A bad essay

Now, I come to a stalemate. My position is untenable. I want to do something, at least to write something down but I can get no inspiration. I am enthralled to the feeling of nothingness. To seek for what cannot be sought; to engage in artistic things are surely bad tasks. I just feel that my mental structure has collapsed. My burden is perhaps too heavy. Self-awareness has strangled me. Somewhat I just want to be true to my feelings. I feel a revulsion at writing down my experience or else to divulge it. Besides, I have suffered slips of tongue or more correctly, mispronunciation too much that I strongly doubt that the basis is psychological. This phenomenon arises from my anxiety during human interactions.

4th July, 1978

An outline of my familial interaction.

I just have a strong guilt feeling to investigate the family group processes which operate unconsciously, subconsciously or even consciously. This guilt feeling is probably instilled by my parents during my childhood. They do not like to divulge any pathological processes occurring in ordinary interaction; speak less of any particular pathological tendencies. Sometimes, my intense hatred and hostility burst sporadically and vehemently.

The account of a dream 25th July, 1978 3.30p.m.

I dreamed that an old man, scholarly and with a paternal image was talking with a young woman in his house. She was lying on bed with a blanket. The old man was asking the woman to leave her husband, persuading her through all means. Finally, he said that he had anesthetized her and would rape her. Another young woman came. She did not allow the old man to do so and fetched a knife to threaten him. But the old man took a knife and said that he wanted to disfigure the almost-sleeping woman.

who crept down from her bed. The old man was angry and used his knife to scratch the neck of the woman. The other woman came near him, held the knife tightly and asked him to stop. He did not stop and pleaded that she should kill him. The woman just imagined how the knife would be inserted into his back with might and intensity. I felt such terrible feeling and woke up. The feeling was my feeling. The former woman's with her husband was not good.

The account of a dream 9th August, 1978

I was in a place which is like my house, in fact, my room. I was dissecting a corpse with my former girl friend, the girl friend of Raymond Lee and another boy. The first corpse was a woman. I was then watching the dissection of a man who died extremely horribly. - the corpse was deteriorating and the body below the abdomen was cut away. He had a very terrible look and I was supposed to feel frightened, but I did not. I heard that 'the board of the man was growing before his death'. Then I took up an old magazine, telling a story with photos. One photo showed a place with old cars, old buses and lorries with a steep road. Suddenly, I found that I was in a wood and some asked me whether I slept as yet. I looked down and found that some people were adjusting telescopes on a piece of flint. I came down and saw - one of them was Lo Po Kee with a very large, interlocking telescope with many pieces. I said that it was difficult to manipulate such telescope. However, he remarked that he could.

曉

風臨秋雨集， 落地掃殘年。 孤雁過寒夜， 旦夕莫相憐。

七八年十月一日二時(丁年)

在這些日子裏，自己也沒有了自己，心境很老……

The year

This is the year I dislike. I probably let it drift or pass without any effort. I have the thoughts of withdrawal; that I get all 'F's' in my subjects with $GPA = 0$. I cannot sustain my interest in Physics or mathematics or the like. I want to meet more people, see more of them. After all, Physics or Maths is not important in life.

1.10.78

MCC? The Theory of Relativity? (for S.J.C. A.C.)

The theory of Relativity is one of the hallmarks of the development of modern Physics. It was propounded by Albert Einstein in the beginning of this century as the 'special' and 'general' theory of relativity. The difference between them is that the special theory deals mainly with inertial reference frames (frames moving with constant velocity) and the general theory explores the characteristics and structures of physical laws in non-inertial reference frames (frames moving irregularly or with gravitational fields).

The basic postulates in the special theory of relativity are as follows: 1) the velocity of light in vacuum is constant and independent of the emitting source; and 2) the form (mathematical) of physical laws

I probably let it have the thoughts of my subjects with interest in Physics or meet more people, or Maths is not so

1.10.78.

(for S.J.C.A.C.)
of the hallmarks in it was propounded by of this century as of relativity. The differential theory deals mainly with moving with constant does the characteristics in non-inertial reference with gravitational fields) special theory of velocity of light in of the emitting of physical laws

is the same for all inertial reference frames. Following these assumptions, a set of amazing results can be derived. The former Newtonian conception of absolute space and time is shattered. The mass of a physical object is dependent on its velocity and increases with increasing speed of travelling. On the other hand time is slowed down (this phenomenon is called time dilation). When the object attains the speed of light, the energy associated with it will become infinite; time merely stops. According to the theory, there exists a speed limit to all physical objects in the universe.
Nothing can travel with speed that is faster than the of light.

The general theory of relativity has important implications in the field of cosmology and cosmogony. Einstein tried to relate the characteristics of physical laws in non-inertial reference frames. He shows that the gravitational mass and the inertial mass of any physical object is indistinguishable, i.e., they are equivalent. Moreover, he predicts and explains the phenomenon of the bending of light near a gravitational field in terms of the curvature of space and the space-time continuum. In cosmology, he tries to find out the shape of our Universe through his theory.

The theory of relativity is one of the most momentous achievements in human history; it is at least as important as the discovery of fire. It poses a new challenge to mankind and has a profound impact on the development of philosophy, mathematics and science.
1.10.78

For the feminine girl (2)

I really cannot keep or continue this form of self-dialogue with myself. I have seen you several times in the campus. I feel that your interpersonal experiences have grown tremendously. You are too proud and ostentatious, just too proud and ostentatious. Perhaps you have never encountered failure and rejections. You are too charming and everybody knows only to admire you. Yet, I can only say that you are too narcissistic; I do not know whether you can only receive but incapable of giving. I do not want to take you for granted, nor do I want to surmise your background. Sometimes, I hope only to give, to see you grow as a person, as an ideal person. I only need to know you as you theory of the most toy; it is at of fine. It opens has a profound why, mathematics

1.10.78

this form of
in several times
several experiences proud and ostentatious you have never too charming
you. Yet, I can
; I do not but incapable of for granted, nor
and. Sometimes, I as a person,
know you as you

me; perhaps it is too Platonic and I do not want to fall into the imbraglio once more. For you, I can have some reminiscence of my former, old feelings, which I experienced as a child or as an adolescent. For me, to have you love me or even to dream that is quite impossible. Somewhat, my feelings for you, at times, are calm and serene, very tranquil and old. How I long for such peaceful air. Let me be an old friend of you. What I perceive in reality is perhaps contrary to my expectations
- you may never appreciate? Can you?

1st October, 1978

A note on my 'now & then'

Finally, I have moved to West Point (Re. 30th Oct., 1978)
Well, I am feeling depressed (with many dreams, especially before dawn). I tend to withdraw interpersonal interaction in the Baptist and my facial expression always remains much or less the same. I feel that I am quite remote from my classmates. Nearly all my friends last year have withdrawn and I have such idea of withdrawal a long time ago, in February, this year.
A mild verbal & thought disorganization troubles my interaction and I can write no better, or even worse than before. I just sense that my power of expression deteriorates. I can only vaguely remember my dreams - they are usually associated with swimming. All's right. I have different levels of emotion existing simultaneously.

20th Nov., 1978.

For 'the Sun & its activity 77-78'
And Helios wrings up his piebald face, with spots mottling in a lace.
For rage invades his turbulent heart,
as he roars out his lethal flare.
The Planet Earth, by her own chart, finds difficult to escape his glare.

1st November, 1978

A note on Christian faith & Jesus.
I received a Christian education in my 'good' days and was a Christian (or at least, half-Christian). However, I do not seem to have any religious bent - for I have left the Church for several years.

Jesus, in my view, was a psychotic with well-defined symptoms. The Bible was (in hypothesis) a book of history and psychiatric sickness. The writers or authors of the various chapters of the Bible were also psychotics, or at least, neurotics in modern psychopathological terms. I shall attempt to develop the thesis 'Jesus was a psychotic'. The belief in Christ springs probably from the 'sick' heart or soul of the pious.

24th November, 1978

Far-away

In the midst of a dream I awake, with dreams forever;
but hope not too far.
In her a thousand worlds dwell, within and without;
far, too far.

How I can cry!
Never mind.

24th November, 1978

8.30 p.m.

What is 'love'?

Love is really an abstract word. It is intangible, remote and irrational. I do not understand why love can appeal to many people, including me, sometimes. People just do senseless things when they fall in 'love'. This is perhaps the most stupid thing I have ever seen. Really I wonder how and why can't they stand on two feet and be independent of that 'infantile' love.

24.11.78.

A note on my future essays or papers.

A. Psychology & Psychiatry

1. order theory of interaction (elaboration)
2. therapy (psychotherapeutic techniques & theories)
3. psychology of ultimate concern.
4. psychiatric observation in everyday life. (records)

B. Religion & Philosophy

1. The problem of Jesus: - Jesus was mad and dead!
2. Religion and its impact.

3. Dialectical Pluralism - a new way of interpretation.

C. Science (Natural and Social)

1. Modern Physics

2. Scientific Method (methodology, domain & range)

3. Sociology - a study of its theories.

4. The Theory of structures.

D. Dramas, play & poetry.

24.11.78.

For the feminine girl (4) - a dream

I dreamed of you this morning - you were extremely sexy and seductive and I tried to learn not how attractive to other men you were, lest I would become highly jealous. I talked to a Baptist student (Lion Kuan Jai) about you but was told that he could communicate with you. Somehow, I woke up.

Morning. 25.11.78

Words' Salad

The mind of the heart is for all that comes from nothing. What if it extinguishes for love's sake, nor can I survive. Through and through once or twice, to the land of fantasy I journey. Serries, imposing of their kind, go the Seven Seas of Never. Long and gone, as if they were neither. No truth, no falsity. I flourish, I grow, I deteriorate, I fall. After all, can it be? Left in a state of vexation. Left in a vacuum of life.

26.11.78.

I cannot see life as graceful as it ^{can be} is. It is but an awkward, confused stage of being; a mess of the void. A fraud to all is the message of life given:—meaning, mystery or dilemma? Gone! Gone! Let it be animal, not man. Weep no more; but love no more, for Lucifer has its place.

26.11.78.

Man, on his verge of being, is whatever he can be, I am who I am; I do what I do. Man, not like his irresponsible cruel gods, is man.

26.11.78.

DRAFT FOR A PLAY

Setting: - Hong Kong

Factors: - 1. developmental history (longitudinal)

2. cross-sectional social setting

3. stresses

4. interactions.

5. emotive responses.

6. rationality

7. rationale

8. others.

Characters: - 1. students

2. parents

3. friends

4. workers

5. clerks

Interpersonal fields: -

1. love

2. paranoid behaviour

3. delusion & autism
4. abnormal behaviour
5. socio-economic interactions
6. religious & political convictions.

Personalities

1. withdrawn
2. logical
3. infantile
4. hyperactive
5. paranoid
6. demonstrative.

26.11.78.

And me, as a repertoire of fears and loves;
care not for any superstructure.

27.11.78

We are all psychotic to some extent, mentally mad things we do; sane things we quit from; in all that seriousness I would say -

27.11.78

Love, I can say, is a regressive phenomenon. Have not to have faith in love, for as despair it will return.

Human psyche is the most fragile structure I have ever seen.

27.11.78.

Plot of the Play Theme.

Interaction & Development

1. Love & loss of love.
2. destructive impulses & aggressiveness.
3. religion - the psychology of a Christian.
4. socio-political ideology - the psychology of a Marxist.
5. Life questions - wealth, power, prestige.
6. abnormal behaviour & emotion
7. parent - child interaction & familial interaction.

Characters :-

- | | |
|----------------------------|-----------|
| 1. Mr. A - a young Marxist | 4. Miss D |
| 2. Miss B - | 5. Mr. E |
| 3. Mr. C - a Christian | 6. Miss F |

26.11.78.

and loves;

27.11.78

mentally. Mad things that seriousness &

27.11.78

Love me in flesh and blood;
with mind and soul, for the wholeness emerges.
In all that freshness, all that passion.

Don't love a thrilling experience,
to participate in another's ^{one's} total being,
and watch one's growing.

The passions are now remote,
life does petrify. And have no more.
Still and still.

27.11.78

Am ~~the~~ greatest fool of all.

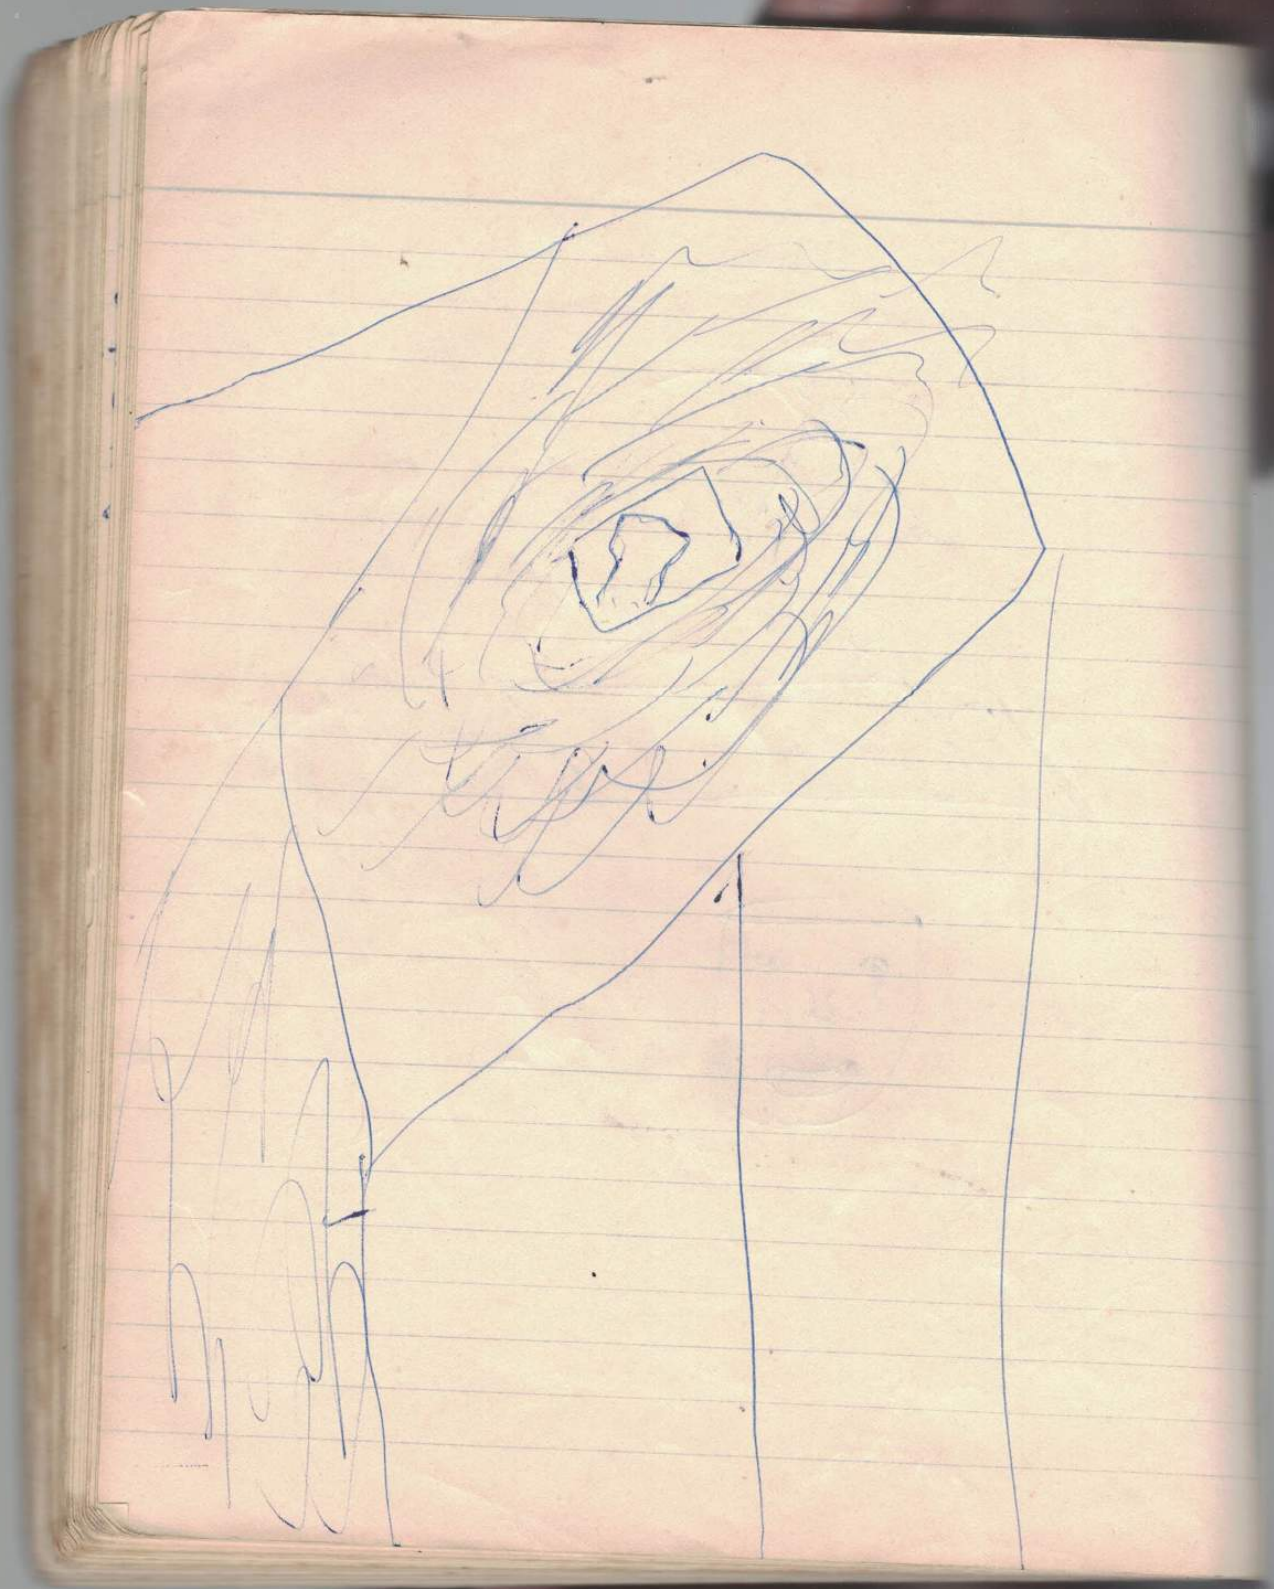

emerges.

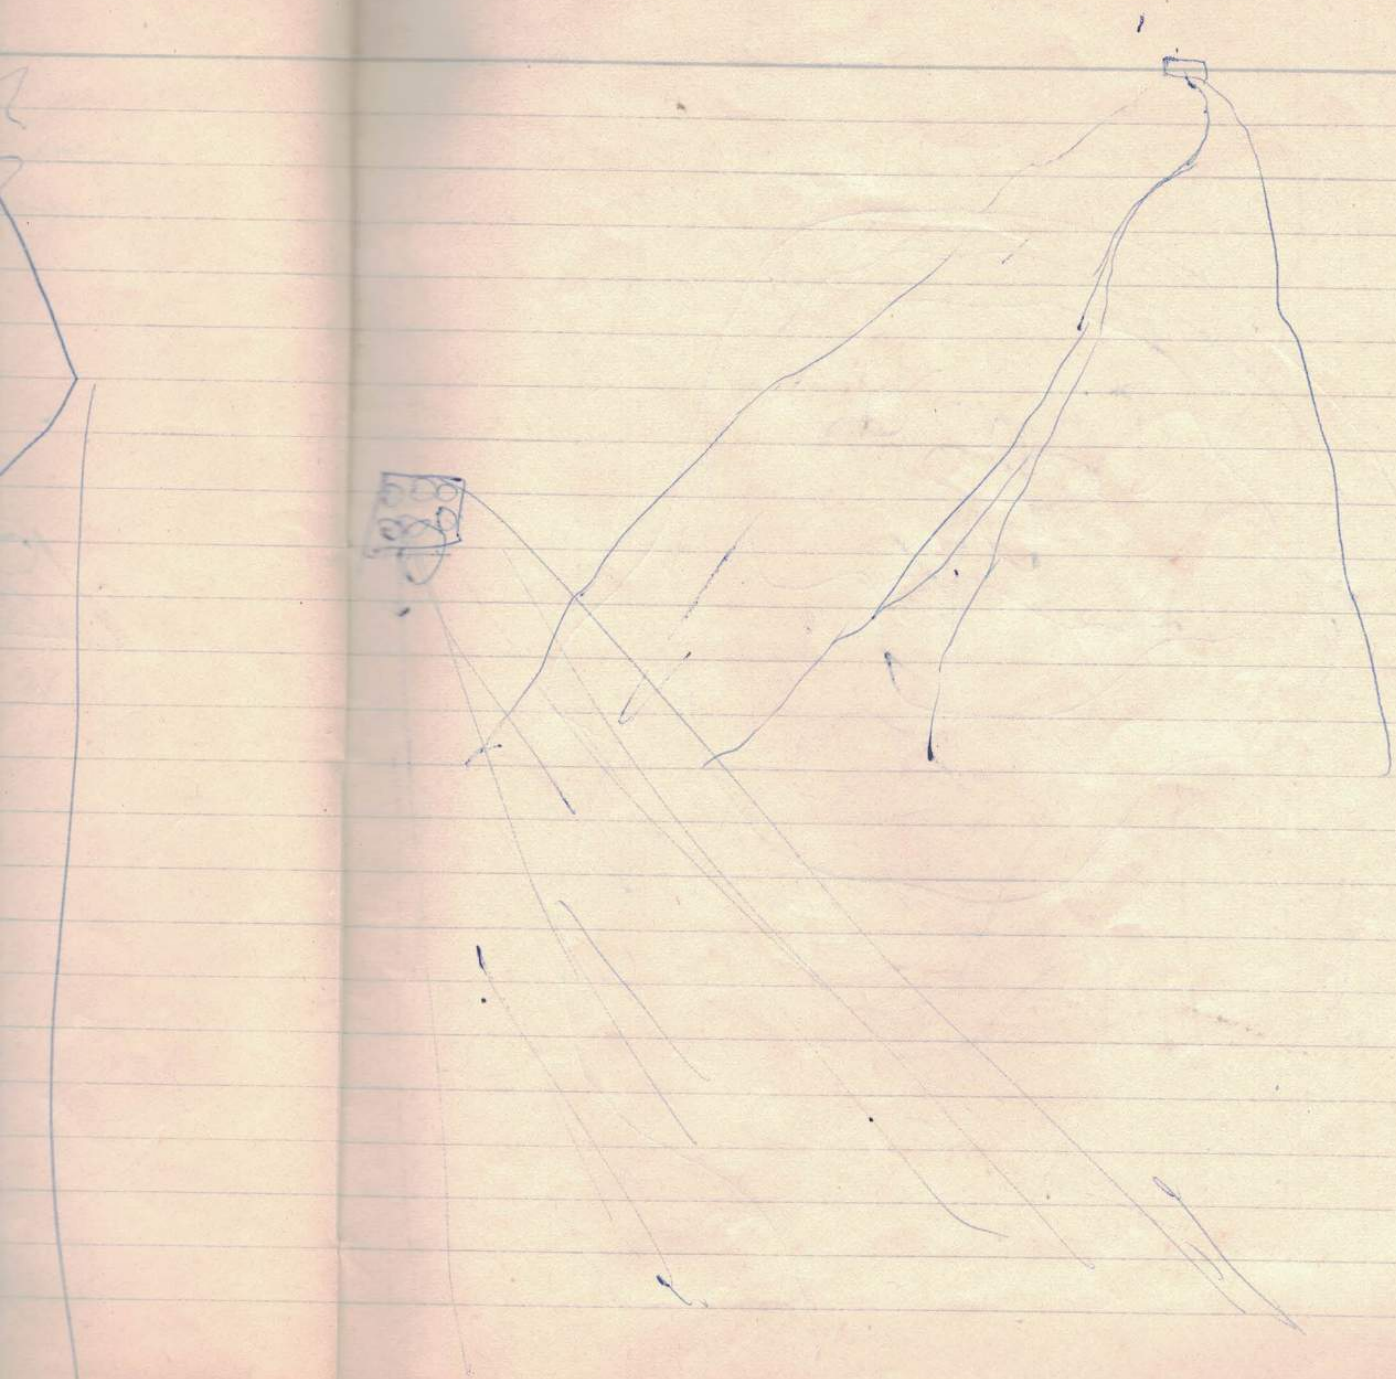

on

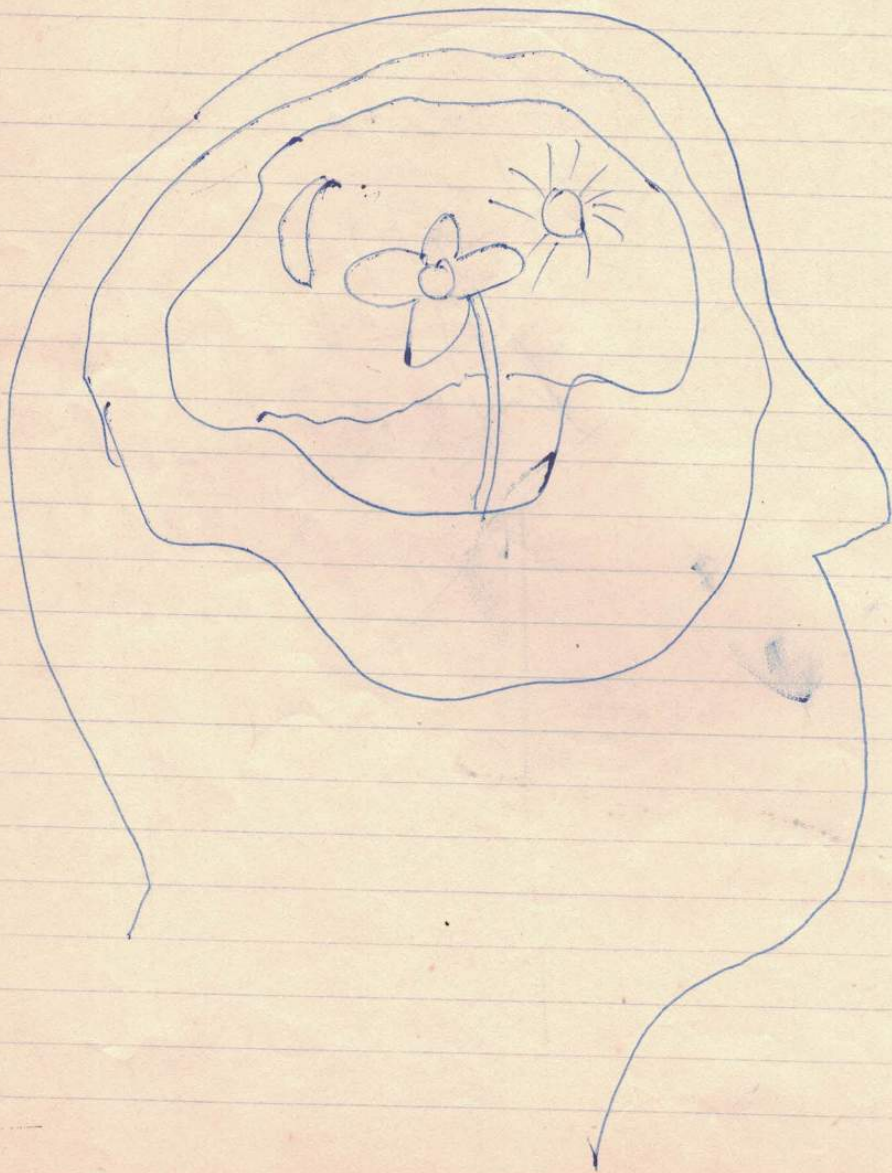

7.11.78

A B C D E F G
H a b c d e f g h

洪

洪

洪